

Friday Evening Presentation

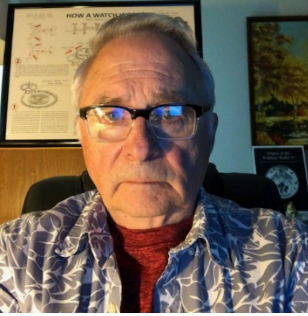

Ron has a bewitching story, 30 years in the making, to tell about the bankruptcy of the Boston Watch Company and finding its watches in the six thousand serial numbers.

Story Never Heard Before aka “Thieves in the Night”
aka “Unbelievable Capers”

wrought, when such contract or agreement was made - state the whole in a Schedule, ^{what are} the value of them so taken care of? Did you not offer to sell them to Henry W. Barker or one of them? If so for how much?

17 If any such Stock materials tools or fixtures were taken by you as mentioned in the last interrogatory, where did you take them from or have them taken? Where are they now? Has the Adverser made any claim for them or any of them of you?

Following a professional career in high-tech computer companies, Ron Price recently retired from building websites. He has been an active member of NAWCC chapters #8, #87 and #148, also Mass Watch & Clock Makers; and now lives in South Carolina and joined Ch. 144.

Ron's renowned monograph, "Origins of the Waltham Model 57", was published by NAWCC in 2005 and he has maintained updates on his website along with other related articles.

<https://www.plads.com/m57/monograph/>